*Proposed Allowed Claim Amounts are amounts invested less the amount received back by an investor. Where an investor's claim was objected to, the proposed allowed claim amounts would be the amount recommended by the Receiver in the claim objection unless there was a timely written response. Where there was a timely written response, the allowed claim amount represents the amount agreed to between the Receiver and the investor.

**The Proposed Distribution Amount was arrived at by taking the Proposed Distribution Percentage of 6.6853% and applying it to the allowed amount of each investor's claim from the original schedule. The distribution percentage was calculated by taking the original $1,000,000 distribution amount and dividing it by the total proposed allowed amount of all claims listed in the original Schedule-- $14,958,238. With the additional claim amounts added in the Amended Schedule, less the one claim amount that was taken off, the total allowed claim amount has increased to $15,349,342.78. The Receiver has recommended against lowering the distribution percentage despite the increased claim amount. Instead, the Receiver has recommended increasing the amount to be distributed to account for the additional claims.

*** Signifies a change that affects the claim amount, including the addition of a new claim, the removal of a claim, or a change in the allowed claim amount.
